Category 1
A) OCM/AAM (ex. Xilinx)
B) OCM Authorized Supplier (ex. Digi-Key, Mouser)
C) Supplier receiving parts exclusively from OCM

Category 2
- CASL (ex. Mouser, Avnet, Arrow)

Refer to “Resources” section below for web address of Category 2 CASL

Category 3
- All parts obtained outside of Categories 1 & 2 must be tested through a testing facility identified on the CASL (ex. Xtreme Semi, Mil-Aero, Resion)

Refer to “Resources” section below for web address of Category 3 CASL

Can the electronic parts be purchased through the methods listed above?

YES Purchase through standard procurement process: Store records

NO

Can the electronic parts be purchased through a supplier on the CASL?

YES Purchase through standard procurement process: Store records

NO

Can the electronic parts be purchased through methods other than those identified in Categories 1 & 2?

YES

NO

Redesign

With the approval of Sponsor, purchase through standard procurement process

Send electronic parts to an approved tester on CASL

Parts are approved for use: Store test records

Did the parts pass the test?

YES

NO

Notify PMSO for GIDEP reporting

Terms
GIDEP – Government-Industry Data Exchange Program
AAM – Authorized Aftermarket Manufacturer
OCM – Original Component Manufacturer
PMSO – GTRI Project Management Support Office
CASL – Contractor Approved Supplier List

Resources
Category 2 CASL (List of Suppliers):
https://landandmaritimeapps.dla.mil/offices/sourcing_and_qualification/QSLD.aspx

Category 3 CASL (List of Testers):
https://landandmaritimeapps.dla.mil/Offices/Sourcing_and_Qualification/QTSL.aspx

Types of Counterfeits
Recycled
Remarked
Overproduced
Out-of-spec/Defective
Cloned
Forged Documentation
Silicon Time Bomb
Backdoor

Aged
Non-Functional
New Fabrication Outside Contract
Performance
Pirated IP
Reversed Engineered
Fake Certifications
Forged Changelog
Tampered